CONSTANTINOPLE, November 19.

WE are all here in the greateſt conſternation, on account of the great ſucceſs of the Ruſſians, who took advantage of the late revolt amongſt our troops, and by that means got poſſeſſion of our camp, with all our cannon. But as we ſince learn that they are retiring to their main army, our fears are now ſubſiding. The Divan has informed his Highneſs the Grand Signor, that the ſeaſon is too far advanced to aſſemble a large army immediately, as it would be in vain to attempt to drive the Ruſſians from any of their poſts this winter. In the mean time, proviſions grow every day more ſcarce, ſo that we have too much reaſon to fear a riſing among the Inhabitants.

Peterſburg, Dec. 10. Letters from Moſcow adviſe, that the chiefs in the late revolt, with their accomplices, to the number of 300, have undergone their punishments. Four of those charged with them, after having received the Knout, have had their noses bored, and been sent to the gallies for life. An Ecclesiastic has been delivered over to be tried by the clergy, and 133 others received less rigorous punishments.

These letters add, that the cold having set in, the deaths have decreased to 200 a day.

Nov. 18. The late bad success of the Turkish arms is attributed to the revolt of the Janissaries, who, it is said, being discontented for want of their pay, refused to fight, murdered their Aga and his Lieutenant, plundered the military chest, which contained 5,000,000 pieces of eight, set fire to the camp, &c. after which they dispersed themselves different ways. The Grand Vizir, finding all was lost, sought his safety in flight, accompained only by 60 persons, and carried with him the standard of Mahomet, which, without this precaution, would have infallibly fallen into the hands of the enemy. Notwithstanding all these unhappy circumstances, the Porte is so far from being dispirited, that it is taking all possible measures to remedy these evils. Accordingly, money has been sent to Andrianople, and the Pacha, who commands there, has received orders to raise all the men that are capable of bearing arms, and march against the Mutineers, in order to bring them back to their duty. There is a talk of deposing the Grand Vizir, and supplying his place with Muegzoen Zade. Upwards of 3000 workmen are constantly employed in casting cannon, and the utmost pains are taking to get every thing ready for the fleet and army.

Lisbon Nov. 26. The ship named the St. Joseph, is just arrived from Goa, having on board one of the chief ministers of that place, who was immediately shut up in the prison of Limoire.

Dantzick, Dec. 4. The King of Prussia has trebled the tax he had laid on all the lands in Polish Prussia. General Tadden not long ago sent a Lieutenant to Marienbourg, to receive from the Burgomaster of that city an account of the number of its inhabitants, and upon this magistraites refusing to comply, the Prussian general sent 40 men to his house, to live there at discretion.

Pisa, Dec. 16. His Royal Highness the Duke of Glocester is so far recovered of his late indisposition, as to be able to take the air on horseback, which he has done Twice: And his Royal Highness proposes in seven or eight days, to go from hence, by sea, to Naples, on board his Britannic Majesty's ship the Alarm, now at Leghorn.

Leyden, Jan. 2. The Russians have taken the Sieur Sokotowski prisoner, together with the party of confederates which he was at the head of.

L O N D O N,

Jan. 3. The Council held at Lord North's yesterday is said to have been in order to counteract some powerful influence now formed against the present administration.

A kind of party has been lately formed by several distinguished Noblemen out of Administration: They meet at the house of one of the most distinguished Officers of State; are countenanced by a great Personage; and it is thought they will be in place very soon.

Jan. 4. On Tuesday evening a letter was received from Dr. Jebb, at Pisa, with advice that his Royal Highness the Duke of Glocester had relapsed, and that there was not the least probbaility of re-establishing the health of this young prince.

By a private letter from Bourdeaux, it seems a strong suspicion prevails there, that his late Royal Highness the Duke of York was poisoned, and that a certain lady (a Foreigner) who had connections of a singular nature with his Royal Highness, during his stay in Bourdeaux, does not stand clear of having been directly or indirectly concerned in this hitherto mysterious and infernal transaction.

By the same letter, some doubts have been started of a similar nature, relative to the present state of ill health, which has reduced his Royal Highness the Duke of Glocester to death's door.

Four large transport ships are now lying at Cork, for the embarkation of troops to North America.

Jan. 6. On Saturday last two vessels, of 300 tons each, were taken up at Deptford, on government contract, to carry stores and provisions to Falkland's Island.

Jan. 8. On Monday arrived at the house of Baron Nolcken, the Swedish Ambassador, in Percy-street, with an answer to the objectionable articles in the Treaty of Commerce between the English and Russians; he immediately waited on Lord Rochford with it; when it appeared that every difficulty was removed, and the Treaty will soon be ratified.

Jan. 9. They write from Gibraltar, that a Portuguese vessel of 550 tons burthen from Turkey, had been taken by three Algerine chebecks, and carried into Algiers. The cargo is said to be valued at 300,000l. sterling.

Some expresses have lately arrived over land from Gibraltar, which bring an account, that the Spaniards, so far from refusing to supply the garrison with provisions, behave in the most amicable manner with the English.

Jan. 15. Lord North has appointed Mr. Macleane, late Under Secretary of State, and Member for Arundel, to the Collectorship of Philadelphia, void by the death of Grosvenor Bedford, Esq;

We hear that the celebrated Dr. Dodd, whose pretensions to a mitre have been so long overlooked in this degenerate age in point of taste as well as politicks, is likely to be obliged at last to cross the Atlantic for the reward of his labours; this learned and able Divine being the first, and, we hear, the only person under contemplation at present for the new See of America.

It was resolved a few days since, that five sail of men of war should be fitted out immediately at Portsmouth and Plymouth, and ordered to cruise six months in the Mediterranean.

Yesterday there was a Council held at the Queen's Palace, at which Lord North, the Secretaries of State, Earl Gower, &c. were present; his Excellency the Spanish Ambassador attended the whole time, and, after it broke up, had a long conference with the Earl of Rochford and Lord North.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.

Yesterday afternoon arrived here Capt. Smith from St. Christopers, by whom we have the following advices.

WESTMINSTER, January 22, 1772.

YEsterday his Majesty went in the usual state to the House of Peers, when being seated on the Throne in his Royal Robes, Sir Francis Molyneux, Knt. Gentleman Usher of the black Rod, was sent with a message to the Commons, commanding their attendance immediately; who attending accordingly, his Majesty was pleased to open the Session with the following most gracious Speech.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It gives me much satisfaction, that nothing in the situation of our affairs, either Foreign or Domestick, has obliged me to require your attendance earlier than might have been consistent with your private Convenience; and that, now you are met you will find yourselves at liberty to give your whole attention to the establishment of wise and useful Regulations of Law, and to the extension of our commercial advantages.

The performance of the engagement of the King of Spain, in the restitution of Fort Egmont and Faulkland's Island, and the repeated assurances I have received of the pacific disposition of that court, as of other powers, promise to my subjects the continuance of peace; and we may, with the greater confidence, hope, that we shall not be disturbed in the enjoyment of this blessing, as there is no reason to apprehend that we shall become involved in the troubles which still unhappily prevail in one part of Europe.

The danger of the farther spreading of the infectious sickness in Europe is, I trust, very much abated; but I must recommend it to you, not to suffer our happiness in having been hitherto preserved from so dreadful a calamity, to lessen your vigilance in the use of every reasonable precaution for our safety.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have ordered the estimates for the service of the current year to be laid before you. I make no doubt but you will see the propriety of maintaining a respectable establishment of my naval forces. I am pleased, however to find, that I shall be under no necessity of asking of you, at this time an extraordinary aid.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The concerns of this country are so various and extensive, as to require the most vigilant and active attention; and some of them, as well from remoteness of place as from other circumstances, are so peculiarly liable to abuses, and exposed to danger, that the interposition of the legislature, for their protection, may become necessary. If in any such instances, either for supplying defects, or for remedying abuses, you may find it requisite to provide any new laws, you may depend upon my ready concurrence, in whatever may best contribute to the attainment of those salutary ends.

Jan. 11. It is reported that the following plan is adopted by the Cabinet for the attention of Parliament, in respect to the Duke of C——d's marriage. The marriage to hold good, but the issue to be debarred succeeding to the Crown. An addition to be made to the Duke's present income, and a bill to be brought in to prevent, in future, any branches of the Royal family marrying without the consent of Parliament,

Jan. 17. It is beyond a doubt that the Secretaries of State have received information that the Spaniards are so far from being inclined to pacific measures that they are using their utmost diligence to prepare for war; and it is a matter of fact, that they have at this instant 50 sail of the line ready for sea, and above 30,000 land forces stationed in such a manner along the sea coasts, as to be able to embark on a very short notice. It is added, that there are thirty men of war in Brest harbour, ready for sea, supposed to be intended to join the Spanish fleet.

Those who pretend to know something of the present political system in Europe, say, that it is more than probable we shall have no war this year; for that France is not yet ready to declare: but that next year, unless we prevent it by an immediate war, we shall have hostilities commenced against us in every part of the British dominions.

Lord Chatham is determined to reside in town during the ensuing session of Parliament, that he may be always ready to attend his duty in the house of Peers.

It is said that a popular Lord has been so very assiduous during the recess, as to have procured an authentic account of the plan of operations concerted between the Courts of Paris, Madrid, and Naples, against the Crown of Great Britain. His Lordship was the first man in Europe who had an authentic copy of the Family Compact.

Lord Chatham and Lord North have had several private meetings lately at the house of the former; from whence it is imagined his Lordship intends to accept of a place in the administration.

It was this day confidently reported that Lord Townshend is sent for over from Ireland.

Jan. 18. Yesterday the Right Hon. the Earl of Chatham was near two hours with his Majesty in private at the Queen's palace.

Letters from Paris, dated December 27, say, "They write from St. Domingo, that on the 3d of October last some violent shocks of an earthquake were felt at the Cape, which threw down the church newly built, and several houses."

It is the opinion of many coffee house politicians that if nothing is done, relative to the ratification of the duke of C's marriage, by our senators at their ensuing meeting, he will in six months time become a great patriot, and severe opposer of administration. Since his return to Windsor lodge, he has pursued such measures as to insinuate himself into the good graces of the people of that neighbourhood.

Yesterday four vessels of 400 tons each were taken in the river, by an Agent, for the service of the Empress of Russia, which, it is said, are to carry provisions from Ireland to the Russian ships, that are to winter at Gibraltar, Mahon, and Leghorn.

BOSTON, March 26.

We hear from Providence, that on Friday last, at their Superior Court, came on the trial of the cause of David Hills of the Massachusetts Bay, Plaintiff, and Isaac Low and others, (a commitee of Merchants for the City of New-York, Defendants,) for taking (under colour of Law) and burning a quantity of goods: The cause was closed for the Defendants by Mr. Brintnal, and for the Plaintiff, by Mr. Cole:—The Jury received the cause in the evening and next morning returned the verdict for the Plaintiff, £. 282 damages with costs.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.

Captain Buchannan, from Virginia, informs the brig Charming Molly, John Parrot, master, belonging to, and bound for Piscataqua, from Tobago, was, on the 22d ult. in a snow storm, drove ashore in Linn Haven Bay, Virginia; the vessel and part of the cargo lost, the people saved.

Capt. Jones, from Dunkirk, the 26th of Feb. Lat. 21, 59, Long. 52, 17, spoke the brig Betsey, James Duncan, from Rhode Island, for Barbados, out 20 days, all well:—March 8, Lat. 28, 23, Long. 66, spoke the sloop Pensacola Packet, Capt. Alexander Allford, from New-York, for Pensacola, out 12 days, all well.

With Capt. Jones came passenger Capt. Drew, late master of the ship Thomas and Robert, of and for this Port from Yarmoth, who relates—That about the middle of December, in the North sea, lying too in a strong gale of wind and thick, foggy, rainy weather, they fell on board a brig also lying too, which was dismasted, along side of them, but got clear of her again, his ship having received considerable damage: On the 18th of Dec. being in distress, he (Capt. Drew) bore away for Dunkirk, but was cast away going into that place; the people and part of the cargo are saved.

NEW-YORK, April 9.

The Sloop Harliquin, Capt. Bryson, bound into this Port from Jamaica, about 10 o'Clock on Thursday Night last, the Wind blowing violent hard, and excessive dark, she was forced ashore near the Light-House, where she bilged. The Vessel is entirely lost, but the greatest Part of the Cargo, chiefly consisting of Rum, will be saved.

Letters from London, via Maryland, inform us, that the Ship London, Capt. Chambers; and the Brig Lord Hyde, Capt. Shoemaker, were both to sail from thence for this Port the Beginning of February.

The Mail to go by the Lord Hyde Packet, Capt. Braily, will close at the Post Office next Monday.

On Thursday last, suddenly departed this Life, the Widow Catharine Boelen, aged 82 Years and seven Months.—She was the youngest of six Sisters, whose Maiden Names were Waldron, (a reputable Dutch Family in the Province) three of them lived to a great Age; namely, Judith to 85, Anne to 84, Mary 80; and two are ſtill living; Sarah and Cornelia, the one of whom is 89, the other 84 Years and five Months, which, added to the Ages of the Deceaſed, make 505.—The Mother of theſe truly venerable Matrons, died in the 95th Year of her Age, of a Scratch in her Arm, which mortified

Yeſterday the Ship Fothergill, Capt. Mark Seger, arrived here in 9 Weeks and 4 Days from Alicant, who, the 15th March, Lat. 34, Long. 64, ſpoke with a Sloop —— Capt. Dibbles, 9 Days out, from this Port for Antigua.

The ſame Day, the Sloop Beaver, Capt. Dean, arrived in 19 Days from St. Kitts; on his Paſſage the 1ſt Inſtant, Lat. 35, 33, ſpoke with a Ship 2 Days out, from Virginia, bound to London.

POET'S CORNER.

The TABLES TURN'D; or CUPID in the DUMPS

THE mother of Cupid, you know who I mean,
The Poets nick-nam'd her the Paphian Queen,
(Whom Vulcan surpris'd in a terrible trim,)
Once took in her head, as a matter of whim,
To order young master, with speed to prepare
For New-York. To gain by intelligence there,
If, what she had heard of the ladies was true,
(The goddess was then in a party at loo:
Which finish't) she rose and retir'd with a frown,
And Cupid, now weeping, soon follow'd her down;
Then tossing herself on a sopha of state,
They enter'd at once on this short tête a tête.
"I'ts all a damn'd lie; sure it never can be—
"Some girls at New-York, full as handsome as me!"
(Old Homer has told us in excellent verse,
Each goddess could scold, and would now and then curse;)
"I guess, why the rumour—some beaus in red coats,
"(I wish all their nonsence would stick in their throats,)
"In their "vulgar manner compare them to Venus."
"So often; the distance is now lost between us,
"But haste thee my boy and be anxious to know,
"Each damsel, and mark her from top to the toe.
"Of age, shape and features each circumstance weigh,
"Curiosity claims and admit no delay."
The boy at her elbow, still dropping a tear,
Reply'd, "Oh my mother, this journey I fear
"Will demolish me quite. Unwilling to tell,
"I late stole a look at a fam'd Kitty Fell. *
"Incog, thro' the streets, as I silly was creeping
"I there most severely was paid for my peeping:
"I dread now to meet some more merciless foes,
"For eyes there are many, more fatal then those.
"Then spare me dear mother this visit, oh spare!
"To China, to Greenland, thro' water, fire, air,
"To Pluto himself, rather send me than there"
"You idle young rascal!" the goddess, she cry'd,"
"Your father this instant shall tan well your hide".—
Away the rogue ran, and the town will soon reach,
Each beauty for pity, he means to beseech;
But [she, ranking first in the gentleman's fancy]
Will fix his head quarters with P—la D—cy.

GANYMEDE.

* Alluding to a well known accident.

TO BE SOLD,

BY the subscriber, and may be entered upon on the first day of the fifth month (May) next or sooner if needful, A valuable tract of land, situate in the township of Upper Freehold and county of Monmouth in East New Jersey, nine miles from Bordentown, and four from Allentown, containing upwards of 180 acres of exceeding good land, 25 acres thereof is good meadow, the most part produces a great burthen of clover and spear grass.—Upwards of 100 acres plow land, and two bearing Orchards, all inclosed with good cedar fence.

On the land are erected a merchant and grist mill, having two pair of stones, three Bolting cloths and hoisting jack, which all work by water.—The mill house is 35 feet by 26 feet, with a lento of 24 feet wide, a good scale-beam and weights, a wire screen for cleaning wheat and other utensils necessary to said mills,—a fulling mill and dye house, wherein is a large furnace, well fixed, a press shop, press screw and other implements for carrying on the fulling business; a saw mill built about two years since, suited to cut shipplank or other timber 40 feet long, having crow bars, dogs and other utensils requisite thereto.—All said mills are situated on a large and constant stream of water called Crosswick's Creek, whereby all sorts of lumber flour and other produce may be transported to Philadelphia, at a moderate expence There are also on said premises, a commodious brick dwelling house, a story high with three rooms on a floor; a frame tenement 1½ story high having 6 rooms and a Kitchen, all adjoining;—a well of water near the door, and one garden before and another behind the house, both well enclosed.

There are likewise on said premises, four other tenements (suitable for a miller, cooper, fuller and a blacksmith and their families) a cooper's shop, smith's shop and coal house—a large pork house, smoak house, barn, waggon house, chaise house, and stables sufficient for 12 horses.——The situation is very convenient for a merchant (a store having been kept there for many years past) and for collecting pork, which may yearly be had in large quantities in the neighbourhood, as good in quality as any were in the province of New-Jersey. The neighbouring farmers generally sell wheat, one penny per bushel lower at the said mill, than at the mills nearer Delaware.—Much may be said in favour of the premises, as to the pleasant, agreeable and advantageous situation thereof in a rich and fertile Country, but an examination will be the best recommendation—The title is clear and indisputable, and time will be given for large part of the purchase money.

Also to be sold, a tract of good land in Nottingham township, Burlington county, two miles from Lewis's mill, and 2 miles from Vandikes landing, containing 178 acres; 30 whereof is meadow land or swamp, of which 5 acres are cleared, about eighty acres of plow land cleared and in good fence, a good bearing orchard.—The remainder is well timbered land.—Hereon is erected a convenient fram'd dwelling with a well of water before the door, also a suitable barn——adjoining to the premises lies a large quantity of timber land very useful for an outlett for cattle or swine.—The place is now in tenure of Peter Curtis, and may be enter'd on the first of the fourth month (April) next.——It's situation being contiguous to navigable water will produce great advantage to a purchaser in the sale of timber he may clear off the land, which will bring a good price at the aforesaid landings, time will be given for part of the purchase monies.

Any person inclining to purchase the whole or part of the above described lands, may be further inform'd by applying to James and Drinker, Merchants in Philadelphia,——John and William Imlay, merchants in New-York, or to the owner living on the first mentioned place. 25 29

WARSAW, December 7.

THIS city is infested by a gang of villains, who scarcely let a night pass without committing the greatest violences and outrages. On Monday morning last a young woman, and the gardener of the Waywode of Kiow, were found murdered in the street: great search has been made after the assassins, but they are not yet discovered.

Paris Dec. 10. There is great talk of the re-establishment of the Parliament who had been suppressed; It is hoped that their submission will make an impression upon the Chancellor.

It is said that the King of Denmark proposes to have a fleet of 25 sail in the Mediterranean next spring, to act against the Regency of Algier.

Marseilles, Dec. 13. Letters from the Levant, confirm the news of the descent of the Russians at Metelen, in the Isle of Lesbos. They bring, that the Muscovites had landed at Pasila, nine leagues to the North of that City; that a body of Cuirassiers had put to flight all who shewed an inclination to oppose them; that they had burnt the houses, magazines, dock-yards, and two caravelles (Turkish ships of war) which were upon the stocks; that in order to cover this expedition, four men of war were cruising at the entrance of the canal of the Dardanelles; that they had cannonaded one of the castles on the coast, but without damaging the batteries; that they had only beat down a minaret (or steeple) and that one of their vessels had a mast carried away by the cannon of the castle.

LONDON.

Dec. 28. The estimate that is generally made by the French of their national debt is two thousand millions of livres, or one hundred millions of pounds Sterling. The debt of Great Britain is above One hundred and forty millions. The debt of France, at the conclusion of the peace, was greater than ours.

Dec. 31. A letter from Dublin informs us, that nothing but festivity prevails at present among the inhabitants, on account of the victory gained by the Patriots in Parliament over the mercenaries of the Administration.

On Tuesday last Lord Clive caused to be distributed to the poor inhabitants of Esher, in Surry, two large oxen and one hundred and fifty quartern loaves.

On Sunday Mr. Moore, and fifteen gentlemen, with servants behind his new-invented stage or long-coach, which has four large wheels, set out for Dulwich, to which place this coach is designed to go as a daily stage from London. Two horses drew the whole, and with ease.

The particulars of a speech made some time ago at a certain place in Westminster, on the meeting of an assembly, was the source of much uneasiness to the illustrious Orator who delivered it: In order to prevent such disagreeable consequences from a speech to be made to the same assembly this month, he is determined to speak extempore, and not confine himself to the delivery of a few lines composed by a blundering minister. He has given notice that he shall take about three hours in speaking; therefore the public may promise themselves something very extraordinary.

The Duke of Cumberland we are assured by a correspondent, notwithstanding the very unfavourable light in which he has been hitherto painted, both with respect to parts and disposition, is really a very sensible young man, and remarkably good-natured. Like other young men he has, unquestionably irregularities, but our correspondent declares, that he is very confident a time will come, in which he will be a first favourite with the people.

Doubts are entertained relative to the orthographical authenticity of the Duke's letters to Lady Grosvenor; he wrote them in a hurry; no copies were ever made of them, and his enemies might easily make what alterations they pleased, without the least danger of detection.

Lord Shelburne is by on means a favourite at St. James's, notwithstanding the reports of his frequent conferences with the King.

Though we are now complaining universally of Portuguese ingratitude, yet there is nothing new in the ungrateful disposition of that people. In 1735 we expended above 2,000,000 in their defence against Spain, by sending Sir John Norris with 30 sail of the line to their assistance, yet the immediate return they made for our kindness, was to prohibit our leather trade, and to deprive our merchants of many privileges, particularly warranted by treaty between the two kingdoms.

A littleness of system is now adopted in Ireland with respect to the disposition even of the meanest offices, which surprises the most hackneyed tool of corruption. If an employment above 100l. a year falls, it is kept vacant a long time, that all the various candidates may exert their Parliamentary interest in favour of Government; it being evident that a single vote only is secured when it is positively given away.

A small piece of ground in Piccadilly, bought some years ago, when a field, for 30l. by a brewer, as a waste place to put his butts in, was lately sold for 2500l.

There is now living in Pepper-street, Southwark, one John Piney, who for many years has been employed as a carman: he is above 100 years old, has been married to eight wives, who bore him thirty-seven sons and nine daughters, the youngest of whom is now about twelve years old.

On Tuesday evening a little deformed girl, about sixteen years of age, who had been admitted into the Hospital at Cambridge the day before, to all appearance dreadfully afflicted with the stone and gravel, was safely delivered of a fine boy.

Jan. 1. Besides the donation ordered by her Royal Highness the Princess Amelia to the poor inhabitants about Gunnersbury, her Royal Highness has ordered a quantity of coals, bread, &c. to be distributed to the poor inhabitants in and about Cavendish Square, and places adjoining in the parish of Marybone.

Yesterday Lord North had a long private conference with his Majesty at the Queen's Palace.

The House of Commons of Ireland at the Speaker's desire, have sent the money-bill back to England, amended according to the alterations which were made in the Privy Council of Great Britain, So that they assert their right without interfering with the trade and policy of England.—Lord Townshend will certainly be removed, for suffering those exceptionable taxes to be in the Mony Bill, and reducing the Ministry to this necessity.

Lord Mountmores has gained great credit in Ireland by his late very spirited conduct in the House of Lords there.

The political freethinkers are waiting with great expectations to see the event of a late controversy at the Queen's house, between the head of the Treasury, the head of the Admiralty, and one of the Secretaries of State. If the last is allowed to turn the scale in favour of his hypothesis, there will be such an alteration in the face of affairs both at home and abroad, that Englishmen in particular would be glad to see. The odds are rather against us; but as the inclination of a Great Personage seems to weigh with the Secretary against the other two; the lovers of their country are still in expectation that the best policy will prevail.

It is now reported in great Ormond-street, that a person of distinction, well known there, is actually going to return to Madrid as soon as he can conveniently settle his affairs here, and an Ambassador is arrived from the Court of Versailles. His departure it seems cannot be exactly fixed, as it wholly depends on the last mentioned circumstance, which Lewis, 'its said, is greatly embarrassed about, not being able to fix on any man equal to such an important trust.

It is reported letters are received from Warsaw, mentioning that the Rebel Kosinski had been privately killed in the Castle by order of the Council, for the attempt on his Majesty's life. Two of the other Conspirators are taken.

It is said that a Memorial has been lately received from the Court of Lisbon, relative to the late affair in the Brazils, and at the last Council it was laid before his Majesty; when the concessions appeared so satisfactory, that an answer was made out and sent to his Excellency the Portuguese Ambassador, in order to forward to his Court, so that all differences between the two Courts are settled.

A Letter from Madagascar gives an account, that a French ship had been seized by the natives, who set on shore the Captain and crew, and went off with the ship and cargo.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in the suite of his Royal Highness the Duke of Glocester, dated Pisa December 5.

"His Royal Highness returned to Pisa from Florence the 30th of November, and arrived at Leghorn the next day. On the 1st of this month he dined on board the Trident, Admiral Sir Peter Dennis, accompanied by the Grand Duke and Dutchess, Prince Corsini, Duke Salviati, and several English Noblemen, particularly Lord Cowper, Lord Cholmondeley, Lord Lincoln, &c.

"The ship was splendidly and elegantly fitted up for the reception of these illustrious guests; the lower deck guns were fired upon the occasion, and the evening concluded with a magnificent masked ball and supper given by Sir John Dick the English Consul, who lives in all the splendor of a Minister, and is highly worthy of such a character.

"On the 4th, his Royal Highness dined with Prince Corsini, when the English Nobility before-named were invited, and in the evening the Grand Duke gave a ball and supper. We are now in hourly expectation of the arrival of Mr. Adair and Dr. Jebb, and as soon as they come shall proceed to Rome."

A person who in a former Lottery got a twenty thousand pounds prize, is now, by horse-racing and cock-fighting, reduced almost to beggary.

Friday Mr. Mariner, Bookseller, in Covent Garden, was released from his imprisonment in the King's Bench. About ten months since Mr. Mariner was had up by Information before Lord Chief Justice Mansfield, and and was sentenced to be imprisoned twelve months. His offence was for selling two numbers of a paper called The Whisperer. He petitioned his Majesty for a release, who has granted him his most gracious pardon.

Jan 4. Some people think that the Father of the city's house being plundered by a nest of thieves, may turn out a public benefit, as more notice will be taken of one robbery among the great, than of an hundred among the inferior sort.

Sheffield, Dec 28. Saturday being St. Thomas's day, the Marquis of Rockingham, according to his usual greatness and humanity, relieved upwards of 5000 poor people, who flocked from all parts to Wentworth-house.

IRELAND.

Wexford. Dec. 23. The Mary of and for Wexford, Rossiter, from Liverpoole, with salt and earthen-ware, struck last Tuesday on the Dogger, and went to pieces. The master, with the utmost difficulty, saved himself on a part of the wreck; but the crew, a serjeant, and a woman, who were passengers on board, were drowned.

NEW-PORT, March 9.

Last Saturday arrived the brig Revenge, Captain Evan Malbone, in 18 days from the Mole, by whom advice is received from Hispaniola, that all trade with the English is stopped in all parts of that island, except at the Mole.

PHILADELPHIA, March 23.

Capt. Johnson, from St. Christophers, was informed, that the Captain of a vessel had arrived at St. Eustatia, who made affidavit, that there were 1500 British subjects at Porto Rico, kept in close confinement and treated like slaves, under various pretences, by the cruel and supercilious Spaniards!

Since our last, we have the pleasure of informing the public, that large contributions of victuals, bed-clothes, wearing apparel, and wood, have been sent to the prisoners, confined in our goal. The members of St. Patrick's Society, we hear, raised between thirty and forty pounds at their annual meeting on Tuesday last, for their relief; and last evening, after a charity sermon preached by the Rev. Mr. STRINGER, from 2 Corin. viii. 9, near thirty pounds were collected for them in St. Paul's Church. Such acts of humanity and piety, are more than sufficient to obviate any reflections, that might be made upon the inhabitants of this city, and are proofs, that the sufferings of those individuals mentioned in our last paper, arose entirely from the public being unacquainted with them.

Carolina Pink-Root,

AN Article in considerable Esteem from its efficacy in destroying Worms, is frequently, by Mercenary Persons employ'd to collect it, mixed with other Herbs strongly resembling in Appearance the true Sort, but of quite different Properties and Effects, whence those alarming Fits, Convulsions, &c. which often attend the use of it with Children.

To the MAKERS of POT AND PEARL-ASHES.

AS great Delays have been occasion'd the last Season, in the Inspection of Pot and Pearl-Ashes, by the Makers Neglect in not furnishing the Masters of Vessels, by whom they sent their Ashes to this City, to be inspected, with proper Accounts of the respective Brands or Marks, so as to enable the said Masters to deliver in to the Inspector, on their Arrival, a regular Manifest of what they had on board, previous to the Delivery of the Ashes; It is hereby earnestly requested, for the sake of more Dispatch, and Convenieney to the Venders, in future, that the Makers or Shippers, do furnish the Masters of Vessels by them employed, with an Account of the different Brands or Marks of the Ashes, whose Property, and to whom it is to be delivered, after Inspection; And that the Masters of Vessels do accordingly, from Time to Time, furnish the Inspector with an exact Account of what he has on board, as above mentioned, before he begins to discharge, as the Contrary Proceeding has not only occasioned the utmost Confusion, but greatly retarded the Business of Inspection, there having been too frequent Instances of Ashes being sent to the Inspecting Stores, from a Number of Vessels, at one Time, without any Account or Manifest accompanying the same.
